STARKWEATHER ON TRIAL TODAY

Dulles, Lloyd Confer

Private Talks On Countering 'Tough' Soviets

Copenhagen, Denmark (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd met privately Sunday, eve of a NATO conference, to map ways of countering Russia's new tough line threatening summit prospects.

Dulles and Lloyd, with their colleagues in the 15-nation North Atlantic Alliance, must review the West's position in the light of the Soviet Union's bleak refusal to accept an American proposal for an Arctic aerial inspection system.

That Russian action in the United Nations last week cast a long shadow on the prospects for a meaningful top-level meeting of East and West. In the eyes of the West the Russians have rejected a logical first step toward worldwide disarmament.

Private Doubts

The NATO foreign ministers—meeting in Copenhagen for a 3-day conference beginning Monday—privately had doubts whether the Russians would discuss basic causes of world tension even in the preliminary negotiation designed to lead on to the summit.

Lloyd went to his meeting with Dulles in the British embassy residence shortly after arriving in Copenhagen from London.

Stepping from his plane, Lloyd told newsmen the foreign ministers will re-examine the western approach to the summit in the light of Russia's rejection of Arctic aerial inspection. Britain, he said, wants a summit conference "if something useful can be achieved and if it is properly prepared" but does not want to participate in a propaganda circus.

In the polished corridors of Christiansburg Palace, site for this NATO session, diplomats asked each other how the West could pin down the Russians to a clear discussion of world problems.

The feeling persists among many western diplomats that the Russians are using the prospects for summit talks as a continuing propaganda tool which might pry concessions from the West and in any event be counted upon to confuse world public opinion.

Fremont Man Heads State Letter Carriers

Grand Island, Neb. (AP)—Richard Nielsen of Fremont Sunday was elected president of the Nebraska Chapter of the National Letter Carriers Assn.

The auxiliary chose Leta Eckhart of Seward as president.

Other officers of the letter carriers include: Dale Cotner of Red Cloud, vice president; Barney Dolen of Omaha, secretary; Vestal McKenzie of Burwell, treasurer; and Everett Gibbs of Grand Island, delegate-at-large.

Elected to the executive board were L. M. Motter of McCook, Scottie Harris of Lincoln, Don Knapp of Hastings, Vic Shada of Kearney and Lynn Huntington of North Platte.

Other auxiliary officers include: Althea Rice of Fremont, vice president; Armstrong of Lincoln, secretary; Arlene Reher of Grand Island, treasurer; Betty Knapp of Hastings, state organizer and Kathryn Lowery of Omaha, delegate-at-large.

JUDGE SPENCER... to preside at trial.

ROBERT JENSEN... one of 11 slain.

BRONCO'S FLIP KILLS NEBRASKA COWBOY

Gordon, Neb. (AP)—Bob Phipps, 24, Whitman ranch hand and cowboy, was killed Sunday when a bronco he was riding into a sale ring somersaulted, crushing him to death.

Bob Connealy, manager of the Gordon auction, said about 100 head of "green" ranch horses were being offered for sale. They are bought by rodeos on their ability to buck.

Connealy said that Phipps had just ridden his horse from the chute into the auction arena at the Sheridan county fairgrounds when the animal somersaulted. Phipps died of a crushed chest.

He explained that ranch hands and cowboys in the arena put up entry fees and those making the best rides in the arena split a purse, similar to that offered at rodeos.

Gunman Keeps Vow—Dies In Roadblock Gunplay

... Girlfriend, 16, Captured

Brookings, Ore. (AP)—A gunman who vowed he would not be taken alive was shot and killed Sunday at a roadblock after he had kidnapped 4 young men as hostages.

The gunman, identified by Sheriff Glenn Sabin as Henry Thomas Hill, 36, on parole from California's San Quentin prison, was killed after he fired 2 shots at officers while using his 16-year-old girl friend as a shield. The girl and the 4 hostages were unharmed.

Sabin identified the girl as Dorothy Louise Decker of Lynwood, Calif. The girl later told reporters that she ran away 3 weeks ago from an aunt and uncle with whom she lived in Reno, Nev.

The 4 hostages apparently had been kidnapped for their automobile.

A 24-hour search for Hill and the girl ended at a roadblock just north of this southern Oregon coastal town.

The car containing the gunman, girl and 4 hostages was stopped by deputy Sheriff Ross Bates at a roadblock.

Sheriff's Account

Bates gave this account of what happened:

"I stood on the right side of the car, with a rifle, while State Policeman Kenneth Hemmerling stood on the left.

"I saw these 3 young fellows in the back. They looked kind of funny. Their heads were bowed.

"I jerked the door open and the girl got out. Then Hill got out and stood face to face with the girl. Hemmerling came around to the front of the car and hollered for the boy to get his hands up.

"Hill suddenly flipped around behind the girl. Then he pulled a gun and stuck it in my face—not 6 inches away. I just stood there with the rifle in my hands.

"Then the guy wheeled around and fired at Hemmerling."

"Hemmerling shot back at Hill and Hill reeled around, away from the girl and shot again. I held the rifle in one hand and a flashlight in the other. I used the rifle like a pistol and shot him once. He stopped."

No one was hit by the shot fired by Hill. Hemmerling's shot caught Hill in the chest. The rifle shot him in the side and killed him outright, officers said.

When Hill fell dead, the girl fainted and slumped against the car. Bates said the girl was carrying an unloaded .22 calibre pistol and had a bandolier of shotgun shells around her waist. A shotgun was found in the car. Police said the 4 boys taken as hostages had been kidnapped after they drove to a cabin near Brookings where they found Hill waiting with a drawn gun.

Wisner Man Heads State Auctioneers

Dick Kane of Wisner was elected president of the Nebraska Auctioneers Assn. Sunday as the group ended its 10th annual convention in Lincoln.

He succeeds Rex Young of Plattsmouth.

Other officers elected: W. V. Emrick of Norfolk, vice president; and John Thor of Stanton, secretary-treasurer.

"An auctioneer must be more interested in opportunity than in security," Harris Wilcox of Bergan, N.Y., president of the national assn., said at the evening banquet.

Fairest Selling
He said "the auction method of selling things is the fairest and most efficient manner of disposing of real and personal property, and is especially useful in settling estates."

Approximately 110 members and their wives attended the evening banquet that climaxed a day-long series of business meetings and discussions concerning the auctioneering profession. Gov. Victor Anderson presented a welcome at the banquet.

Mrs. Duane Jensen of Newman Grove was elected president of the Women's Auxiliary to the NAA; Mrs. L. Dale Hanna of York was named vice-president; and Mrs. Don Jensen of Verdigris, secretary-treasurer.

Prisoner Balks But Insanity Plea Expected

Choice Of Jury Likely To Take 3 Or 4 Days To Complete

By Del Harding

Charles Starkweather goes on trial for his life Monday and he reportedly is worried: it seems that during his 3-month prison stay since his capture he has outgrown most of his clothes and may have to wear prison-issued clothing at his trial.

And to make matters worse, authorities reportedly have refused to permit him to wear his prized black and white cowboy boots at the trial. The State Penitentiary's good food and the enforced regular hours and lack of exercise apparently are responsible for the weight gain.

So all in all from a sartorial standpoint things haven't been going at all well for Charlie.

His court-appointed attorneys, T. Clement Gaughan and William F. Matschullat, also have been having their troubles. Starkweather and his family have been balking at basing the 19-year-old mass killer's defense on a contention of insanity.

But despite this reported opposition, the attorneys are expected to enter an "innocent by reason of insanity" plea for Starkweather before his trial gets under way Monday morning in Lancaster District Court.

Jury Selection

First on the trial agenda is selection of a jury, and this is expected to take 3 or 4 days. Judge Harry A. Spencer said he will allow the defense 12 pre-emptory challenges and the prosecution 10 pre-emptory challenges. And each side will also be allowed an unlimited number of challenges "for cause."

Co. Atty. Elmer Scheele has declined to speculate how long the trial will last, but Gaughan has estimated about 3 weeks. Scheele also has not said how many of the 64 prospective witnesses he has listed will be called to testify, but it is expected he will use about 30. Gaughan said he will call about 15 witnesses for the defense.

If Starkweather were to be convicted and the jury recommends the death penalty the case automatically must be reviewed by the State Supreme Court in line with a law passed in 1957 by the State Legislature requiring review of all death sentence cases.

Two Charges

Starkweather is specifically charged with "first degree murder" and with "murder while in the perpetration of a robbery" in the death of 17-year-old Robert Jensen of Bennet on Jan. 27. Starkweather reportedly has signed a statement admitting being involved in 10 murders in Nebraska and 1 in Wyoming.

Here is a review of the known circumstances surrounding the death of Robert Jensen:

Starkweather and his 14-year-old girl friend, Caril Fugate (also charged with murder but awaiting the outcome of a State Supreme Court decision as to where her case will be heard—District Court or Juvenile Court), arrived at the farm of 79-year-old bachelor August (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6.)

Attorneys Tell Of Note On Jail Wall

Attorneys for Charles Starkweather Sunday night released the text of a "confession" Starkweather scrawled on the wall of the wall of the Scotts Bluff County jail at Gering during an overnight stop en route to Lincoln after his capture.

They said it read: "Caril is the one who said to go to Washington state. By the time anybody will read this I will be dead for all the killings, then they cannot give Caril the chair to (sic)."

"From Lincoln, Neb.,

they got us Jan. 19, 1958. "1958, killed 11 persons. "Charles kill (sic) 9, all men. Caril kill (sic) 2, all girls.

"They have so many cops and people watching us I can't add all of them up."

The attorneys said Starkweather had drawn an arrow-pierced heart below the "confession" and written the names "Charles Starkweather" and "Caril Fugate" within the heart.

Of the 11 killed, 6 were male and 5 were female. The attorneys also noted that Starkweather had told them he "did not kill all" of the 11. Asked who did kill the others, they said, Starkweather replied he didn't know.

Also confirmed by the attorneys were reports that Starkweather and Miss Fugate threw a dozen notes from their car during the flight across Nebraska and Wyoming. The lawyers said Starkweather told them each contained details of one of the crimes and was written by the person who committed it.

They said so far as they knew, none of the notes was found.

Former NU Athlete Lewis Anderson Dies

... In 1912 Olympics
Lewis R. Anderson, 67, of Route No. 8, Lincoln, first Nebraskan to ever participate in the Olympics and a member of the Nebraska Sports Hall of Fame, died here Sunday night.

Anderson, a 1912 graduate of the University of Nebraska, ran the mile on the 1912 Olympic team. A retired farmer and salesman, he was born in Genoa and had lived in Nebraska all his life, spending 34 years in Lincoln. He was a member of Westminster Presbyterian Church, Phi Delta Theta fraternity and the University of Nebraska N-Club.

Private family funeral services will be conducted Tuesday. Burial will be in Lincoln Memorial Park.

Anderson is survived by his wife, Louise; sons, Lewis R. Jr. of Lincoln; Frank B. of Omaha; daughters, Mrs. Corwin (Alice) Moore of Lincoln, Mrs. Don (Marie) Fitz of Des Moines, Ia.; brothers, Charles H. of Lincoln, Ralph E. of Minneapolis, Minn., Arthur E. of Genoa, and 13 grandchildren.

Warmer Temps, Scattered Rain Forecast Monday

Sunny dry weather west of the continental divide influenced a rise in temperatures Sunday and is expected to bring mild and somewhat warmer temperatures for Nebraska through Tuesday.

A few widely scattered showers or thundershowers are predicted for the state Monday but high temperatures are expected to hit the 70s, following highs generally in the 60s Sunday. Lincoln reported a high of 65 and a low of 49.

Partly cloudy but warmer temperatures are forecast for the eastern part of the state with little change in temperature Monday night and Tuesday.

A-Free Zone Is Nixed

U.S. Says No To Polish Plan

Washington (AP)—The United States Sunday announced rejection of Poland's proposal for a central European zone free of atomic weapons. This country renewed its proposal for an inspection zone stretching from the United Kingdom to the Ural mountains.

A note delivered in Warsaw by U.S. Ambassador Jacob B. Bean was made public by the state department.

It was carefully designed to bid for Communist Poland's friendship in spite of the American rejection.

'Appreciation'

In the note Bean expressed appreciation for "the initiative of the Polish government" in proposing the plan and said he hoped improved relations between Poland and the United States "will serve as a basis for a better understanding between our two countries."

The United States turned down the Polish plan, which had been put forth by Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki last October, on the ground that it would not deal with the essential questions of European security and disarmament and would deny to western forces in Germany the nuclear weapons which, in the U.S. view, they must have to offset Russia's "greater mass" of troops stationed to the East.

The plan would perpetuate the division of Germany which is "the basic cause of tension in Europe," the United States said, would leave Russia's western territories capable of surprise attack, and would not deal with the basic question of "continued production of nuclear weapons by the present nuclear powers."

Poland had proposed, in what became known as the Rapacki plan, that atomic weapons be permanently barred from West Germany, East Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia. The latter 3 are in the Soviet bloc.

'Rapacki Plan'

In explaining its own position to the Polish government, the United States recalled that the western powers had proposed to Russia last year a ban on the production of material for nuclear weapons together with an end to weapons testing and a reduction of nuclear stockpiles.

Poland has achieved some political independence in the last 18 months and U.S. officials said the Rapacki plan may well have originated in Warsaw rather than in Moscow. But it coincides with one of Russia's major foreign policy purposes, which is to deny nuclear weapons to West Germany.

In explaining its own position to the Polish government, the United States recalled that the western powers had proposed to Russia last year a ban on the production of material for nuclear weapons together with an end to weapons testing and a reduction of nuclear stockpiles.

Injuries Slight

Barbara Dill, 18, of 942 Manatt was treated for a sprained ankle and cut on her head at a Lincoln hospital and released after she suffered the injuries in an auto mishap on L between 8th and 9th. She was a passenger in a car driven by Phillip D. Outlaw, 18, of the Lincoln Air Force Base when it collided with the rear of a parked truck.

Wayne Man Dies In Crash

Lincoln Star Special
Wayne—Arthur Meier, 58, of Wayne was killed at 6:10 p.m. Sunday when his car collided with a car driven by Gayle A. Wehrer, 22, also of Wayne, 8 miles south of Wayne on State Highway 15.

According to the Safety Patrol, Meier was traveling west on a country road when his car collided at an intersection with Wehrer's car, traveling north on Highway 15.

Wheat Price Decline Expected

Seasonal Drop To Begin In Mid-May

By Bill Anderson
Although Nebraska wheat prices experienced a slight rise in the last 2 months, the usual seasonal decline in prices is again expected as harvest approaches, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The low for winter wheat probably will be reached in late June or early July, while the spring wheat low will occur later. According to the USDA, cash wheat prices usually start a downward swing about mid May.

The decline this year, however, is expected to be more than seasonal due to the reduction in the federal support price from a national average of $2 per bushel for 1957 to a support of $1.78 for 1958, set by the USDA.

May Fall Below

Prices may fall substantially below the announced support, as in the past. The price of No. 2 Hard Winter, principal Nebraska strain, at Kansas City in July, 1955 and '56 averaged 21c below the support, and in 1957, 17c below.

The difference between the July market price and the loan in 1957 was slightly less because of the operation of the new export program, not in effect in 1955 and '56. However, as the 1958-59 season advances, and after the heavy movement slackens following harvest, prices to growers are expected to strengthen.

Overplanting High

Overplanting of acreage allotments has been extensive this year, according to the USDA. If crop prospects continue favorable, a large percentage of wheat from such acreage will be harvested as non-compliance grain.

If this happens, the proportion of wheat eligible for support, accordingly, would be reduced, though the total quantity will be greater because of the increase in production. Consequently, the average price for the marketing year probably will be lower relative to the support level than in past years when non-compliance was not so great.

In the past 3 years, according to the USDA, prices to growers have averaged 8c below the announced rate, which is about the average amount deducted for storage.

Large wheat stocks on the farm, in commercial storage, and in CCC-owned storage facilities are common to all major wheat-producing states.

The current Nebraska 1958 wheat picture looks bright with bumper crops predicted due to excellent soil conditions.

Nixon Tour In Paraguay; Bolivia Next

Asuncion, Paraguay (AP) — Vice President Nixon came to Paraguay Sunday for an 18-hour visit and talks with President Alfredo Stroessner. President Eisenhower's touring goodwill ambassador got a 21-gun salute at the Asuncion airport on his arrival from neighboring Argentina. Thousands of Paraguayans lined the route of his 30-car motorcade to government house.

At the airport, Nixon praised the Paraguayan people for the courage they had demonstrated throughout their history and said he knows they are looking to the future for development of their natural resources. "We of the United States are gratified by the close friendship throughout history of our 2 countries," he said. "That is one reason why we welcome the opportunity to work with the people and the government of Paraguay in the development of economic resources."

Stroessner is reported seeking about 30 million dollars in foreign aid for development of a dam to provide hydroelectric power for his nation. After an overnight stay, Nixon is scheduled to leave for Bolivia on his 8-nation tour of South America.

Tree Donated To NU Campus

The planting of this 20-foot-high, 33-year-old Silver Colorado Blue Spruce on the University of Nebraska campus this past week end signals the start of a new tradition. The tree, donated by Dr. James Sellers, professor of history, shown with Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin (pointing), will be used as a Christmas tree. Dr. Sellers, who will retire this year, is credited with initiating the campus beautification program which began in 1940. The tree was planted by Dr. Sellers at his residence (2335 A street) 26 years ago when the tree was seven years old. An anonymous donor financed the moving of the tree to the site of the razed Ellen Smith Hall.

Wenstrand, Mrs. Quate Win Community Playhouse 'Elsies'

John Wenstrand and Jeanie Quate were named top performers of the Lincoln Community Playhouse during the first "Elsie" awards, presented following the final performance of the play "Janus" Sunday evening.

The play "Time Limit," directed by Don Johannes, was selected as the best of five productions. All 6 awards went to the last two plays of the season.

Wenstrand was awarded an "Elsie" statuette for his starring role as Major Harry Cargill in "Time Limit" and Mrs. Quate was cited as best female performer for her role of Jessica in "Janus." She won a supporting award in 1956 for her role in "Idiot's Delight."

Supporting role awards went to Bob Raasch for his performance as Lt. George Miller in "Time Limit" and to Mrs. James Waller for her role as Mrs. Mary Cargill in "Time Limit."

Mrs. Quate

Wenstrand

Robert Koudele won an Elsie for best minor role for his role of Mr. Harper in "Janus."

Presentations were made by Willis Hecht, president of the Playhouse board of directors, assisted by last year's winners, Gil Haase of Dallas, Tex., and Diane Uslaner of Lincoln.

The awards were the 12th annual presentations but the first of the "Elsie" (Lincoln Community) statuettes, according to Playhouse Director Johannes.

Ike Notes U.S. Foreign Trade Value

Stratford, Va. (AP)—President Eisenhower said Sunday the United States must live up to its responsibilities in a world growing smaller. He said in particular the nation must remember 4 1/2 million of its citizens are engaged in making the goods this country sends abroad.

In bright overcast weather, to a crowd of more than 500 on a warm day, Eisenhower delivered a backyard talk at the ancestral home of a general he admires greatly for all that he once second-guessed him.

The President shared the speaking program at a ceremony honoring Robert E. Lee, the Confederate commander, with the Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks.

Eisenhower recalled that the sprawling Lee estate was an almost entirely self-contained economic unit when Thomas Lee, the Civil War general's grandfather, established it on the cliffs of the Potomac in 1725.

But the difference between the country then and the nation now, he added, "is the difference between ox carts and jet airplanes."

He said it was the duty of each American to think for himself in his relation to the others in the world and make of the nation the place that the Lees and other men of vision foresaw for the future.

Dr. Camargo President Of Colombia

Bogota, Colombia (AP) — Dr. Alberto Lleras Camargo was elected president of Colombia Sunday by an overwhelming vote. He was the agreed choice of both the Conservative and the Liberal parties.

In an interview, the 52-year-old Liberal party leader said uprooting violence in the country and bettering economic conditions through U.S. aid, especially in the coffee market, are the prime problems of his new job.

He was president once before, in 1945-46.

Even before an official announcement of his new election, thousands jammed Bogota's main streets in a noisy celebration.

The two-party truce appeared to have brought peaceful elections to Colombia after years of bickering and bloodshed.

Lancaster 4-H Club Affairs

Walton Pig Club met at the home of Keith Rockenbach. The club studied ways to build summer shade for pigs, how to build a farrowing pen, and how to make a self feeder.

Assorted Angels met at the home of the assistant leader, Mrs. Jack Eisele. Members had their aprons cut out and ready to stitch on the machine.

Rokeby Lassies met at the home of Sandy Damrow. The junior leaders are planning the 4-H Sunday ceremony. Shirley Hoy gave a demonstration on standard rolls.

Peppy Pioneers met at the home of the leader, Mrs. Art Wiechert. Shirley Hughes gave a demonstration on making belt loops and all the members made belt loops. Three special meetings were planned including a trip to the Gas Kitchen to see a demonstration. The club is inviting their mothers and the Belt Line Homemakers club to go with them.

Waverly Workers 4-H club met at the home of the leader, Mrs. Albert Munn. The members showed their posters of the Basic 7 Foods. Sally Sundeen and Marilyn Munn gave a demonstration on creamed chicken. Patsy Brown led the games. Officers elected are Carol Maney, president; Jody Anderson, vice president; Joyce Spader, secretary; Mary Schmidt, news reporter. Other members are Mary Gree, Sally Sundeen, Patsy Brown, Marilyn Munn, Vergine Schuelke, and Janet Schlaphoff. Mrs. Vernon Greer is assistant leader.

Tri County Lassies 4-H club met at the home of Donna Stall. Marjorie Weyers and Donna Stall demonstrated cornbread. Jeanette Weyers and Georgia Ann Wagner demonstrated snickerdoodle. Club members judged biscuits which they had baked and brought to the meeting.

Sugar N Spice club met at the home of Jo Ann and Janice Spohn with 25 members present. Members of the club gave demonstrations on how to measure, how to make a bed and how to make muffins.

Malcolm Juniors 4-H club met at the Malcolm High school. Tractor safety was studied and demonstrations of tractor hitches were shown. Plans were made for stocking a pond with fish and for managing the pond later.

Starkweather On Trial Today

Meyer about 1:30 p.m. Jan. 27th. The Meyer farm is located about 2 miles east of Bennet, which is 19 miles southeast of Lincoln.

Starkweather admits shooting Meyer with a shotgun shortly after arriving. About 4 p.m. he and Caril left in Starkweather's car and drove to Tate's Service Station, which is 8 miles south of Lincoln on U.S. 77. They bought groceries and some .22 caliber rifle shells and returned to the Meyer farm about 5:30 p.m., getting stuck in the dirt lane leading to the farmhouse.

Fearful Discovery

Upon checking the wash house where Meyer's body had been left, they found a quilt which had been put over the body apparently had been removed (later Starkweather said he believes the wind blew the quilt off). Fearing that the body had been discovered, Starkweather and Caril took out on foot—their car was mired down in the mud—and went to the site of a recently razed rural school about one-half mile from the Meyer home.

They took refuge in the school's old storm cellar, which is about 12 feet below the ground. The circular cellar is about 8 feet in diameter and filled with about 10 old school desks.

About 8 p.m. Starkweather and Caril left the cellar on foot and began walking towards Bennet where they reportedly hoped to get help to pull their car out of the mud.

Ride Offered

Along came Jensen and his 16-year-old girl friend, Carol King, out for a ride. Jensen pulled up and asked Starkweather and Caril Fugate if there were "anything wrong?" After a short conversation, Starkweather and Caril got in the car, purportedly for a ride into a garage at Bennet.

Once inside the car, Starkweather forced Jensen to drive towards Lincoln, then turn around and drive back to the school site. While in the car Starkweather robbed Jensen of his money and told him they were going to take his car.

On arrival at the school site, Jensen and Miss King were directed out of the car by both Starkweather and Caril Fugate (both reportedly had guns). Starkweather then marched them about 50 feet to the storm cellar, where Starkweather claims Jensen "lunged" for his rifle and was shot.

This is where Co. Atty. Scheele has said Miss King was the victim of an "unnatural sex attack." She also was then shot to death and was slashed in the groin.

Both bodies were dumped down the cement steps of the storm cellar and pieces of timber were placed over the entrance. The Jensen car reportedly had gotten stuck in the mud upon arrival, and Starkweather reportedly spent about 2 hours jacking it up and pushing it out of the ditch.

During this time Caril Fugate reportedly was out of the car.

When the car was freed Starkweather and Caril drove towards Lincoln, throwing out Jensen's school books along State 2. They drove back by 924 Belmont (where Caril's mother, step-father and 2-year-old half-sister had been killed earlier) and then drove out of Lincoln headed west.

Needed Better Car

They continued west until reaching Hastings, where they reportedly decided they needed a better car for their flight and headed back to Lincoln, arriving about 3 a.m. Jan. 28. After driving around the southeast Lincoln area they parked and slept in the car at 24th and Van Dorn.

About 8 a.m. they drove into the driveway of C. Lauer Ward at 2843 So. 24th. Later that day Mrs. Ward and the family housekeeper, Lilyan Fencil, were stabbed to death and Ward himself was fatally shot when he returned from work about 6:30 p.m. Starkweather and Caril then fled in the Ward's car and were captured near Douglas, Wyo., the next day after a Great Falls, Mont., salesman had been killed in an attempt to waive extradition and were returned to Lincoln Jan. 31.

Retarded Boy Doesn't Know Why He Took, Tied, Left Girl

St. Louis (AP) — Polite and aware it's a sin to tell a lie, 15-year-old Robert Martin Reich Jr., told Sunday how he abducted a 6-year-old girl and left her tied and naked in an abandoned house for 3 days without food or water.

Little Kathy Hampton finally wriggled free and was found wandering in stubby fields dirty and disheveled, clad only in her underpants. Aside from being hungry and thirsty, she apparently has suffered no ill effects. A physician said she had not been sexually molested.

Robert attends a class for the mentally retarded. He apparently showed little interest in Kathy after taking her to the ramshackle house. He told police he rode past the house once on his bicycle but did not go in.

Doesn't Know Why

Questioned at police headquarters, Robert said he did not know why he took the child.

Sgt. Frank O'Neill of the homicide squad, said the boy gave this story in an oral statement:

"He had been visiting his mother, Mrs. Lillian Stemmer. At 6:25 p.m. he crossed the street, went in back of Kathy's house and watched some children playing with marbles. Kathy came into the alley, Robert said.

"I went over and asked her if she wanted to go for a ride," he was quoted as saying. She got on the cross bar of his bicycle and they rode toward an area where homes are being torn down to make way for a freeway. The section is about 2 miles from where Kathy lives.

"Then I went to this old house I showed you guys," the boy was quoted. "I pulled her dress, tearing the dress, pulling the back. I tied her hands with strips of the dress. Then I tied her feet and her mouth and put her underpants over her head. Then I put her over in the corner."

Robert's father is in a mental institution and the boy lives with his grandmother in the same general area. He said he returned home after leaving Kathy.

O'Neill then related this exchange with the boy:

"Why did you do it?"
"I don't know."
"Don't you like Kathy?"
"Yes, sir."
"You telling the truth?"
"Yes, sir."
"Do you know what a lie is?"

"Yes sir. It is a sin."

Gave Her Little Tap

When he pulled off the dress, Robert was quoted, Kathy started to cry. "I gave her a little tap and said 'stop crying Kathy. She stopped."

Mrs. Roy Z. Bailey saw Kathy walking in the field. "She said, 'my name is Kathy. Could you find me some clothes.'"

Mrs. Bailey gave her a sandwich and milk, then called police.

She was examined, treated for surface cuts and returned to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Hampton. She did not recognize them at first.

Kathy spent a quiet night sleeping in her mother's arms. Her father sat at the bedside throughout the night "in case she had a nightmare" but the little girl slept soundly.

The doctor who examined her at city hospital said it was "not unusual for a child to survive without food or water for such a period." He found her somewhat dehydrated but said her temperature of 99 was in the normal range.

'Teacher' Drowns

Tampa, Fla. (AP) — Hughie Lee Austin, 30, drowned Sunday while teaching a nephew how to swim. The student survived.

Austin, a citrus cannery worker, was giving Marvin Miller, 14, a lesson in swimming in McKay Bay. Apparently the 2 slipped into a hole. The boy thrashed around but remained on top of the water.

Tax Council Drive 'Off To Good Start'

The Nebraska Tax Equity Council's petition campaign to broaden Nebraska's tax base is "off to a good start," according to Don Kline, Council secretary, "but we need more signatures."

The Council is backing a constitutional amendment to prohibit levying property taxes for the state's general fund, and to distribute some funds for schools "in a manner that will assist in reducing property taxes."

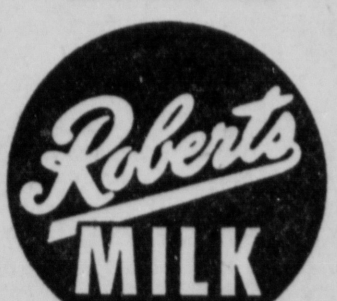

A total of 56,794 valid signatures is needed in order to get the proposed amendment on the November general election ballot.

Kline said Sunday he expects it will be "2 or 3 days" before he gets reports in from out-state which will show just what the status of the campaign is.

Additional support from such organizations as the National Farmers Organization, the American Association of University Women, and the Business and Professional Women is giving a "tremendous assist" to the campaign, Kline said.

Because of the addition of these and other groups, he said the campaign probably will be held open for some time, but the big push for signatures was being made this weekend.

Continuance Of Blood Program Favored In Vote

Norfolk, Neb. (AP)—Madison County residents have decided they'd rather continue a Red Cross blood program than maintain a full-time Red Cross office in Norfolk.

Of a total of 258 ballots cast by residents; 224 favored continuance of the blood program.

The area was asked to express preference since the present financial condition of the Madison County Red Cross chapter does not permit operation of both projects for the next fiscal year.

Mrs. Marjorie McCue, executive secretary, had recommended previously to the Red Cross chapter board that the blood program be continued.

The voting was by a ballot printed in the Norfolk Daily News. Mrs. McCue said the votes represented a cross-section of the people and came from rural areas and towns alike.

4 Killed As Private Plane Disintegrates

Medina, Ohio (AP)—Four persons were killed Sunday when a 4-passenger airplane disintegrated in the air, fell into a field east of here and burned.

The dead—2 men and 2 women—were all from Cleveland.

Thomas Roby, who lives on Ohio 18 said he saw the plane go to pieces about 500 feet in the air. The wreckage of the plane fell along Ohio 18 about 3 miles east of this northern Ohio city.

The bodies of the 2 women, badly burned were found in the wreckage. State patrolmen and members of the Medina Volunteer Fire Department later found bodies of the 2 men in an orchard within 500 feet of the wreckage.

Andrew Karson, Medina County coroner, said the plane apparently caught fire on the ground. The bodies of the men were not burned.

New responsibilities ahead... and ways to meet them

Thoughts of a new father

He is remembering the very first time he saw his wife and baby together—there in the strange hospital room. A flood of love and pride had suddenly welled up in him. And they had seemed so totally dependent on him that it might have been frightening.

But it wasn't frightening—then or now. On his side are youth, strength, ambition. And now a family to encourage him on.

And he has the sure, dependable backing of his life insurance—with its answer to the question, "What would happen to them, if something happened to me?"

Note that it's called life insurance. That's a reminder of its second job: insuring a more confident life for the man who owns it.

City Vote Coming

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Things are building up to the big day May 13 when a large field of candidates will be cut about in half. Those remaining after the votes are counted in the primary will square off against each other in the November general election. As the tempo of campaigning picks up, there should not be a person by the end of this week who does not know the election is coming.

But there may be a lot of people who do not know all the ballots they will be called upon to mark when they enter the voting booth a week from tomorrow. One thing they might not know is that there is a city issue at stake to be decided that Tuesday. On the ballot will be a proposal giving the city authority to sell publicly owned land at 22nd and O and at 48th and Walker. Because this proposal lacks the elements of a true controversy and because it is likely to be buried in the midst of a sea of political candidates, it might not be understood by voters.

City Land Sale Decision

A great many voters might be surprised when they are handed the city ballot, knowing that this is not a city election year. But for Lincoln, it is a special election for this one proposal. The city will neither live nor die on the outcome of its special election but it is still important.

It is important because it affects the efficiency and effectiveness of two departments of the city—the Park Department and the Street Department. The tract at 22nd and O is park land and the property at 48th and Walker belongs to the Street Department.

Voters will help the city and help themselves by approving both of these propositions. It should be remembered that the proposition has nothing to do with taxes, except that approval of the proposition would indirectly tend to lower taxes. By approving the sale of these properties, the voters will give the city a flexibility that will permit improvement in two areas.

If the city can get the price it wants from the 22nd and O land, the money would be put into a park land acquisition fund. It could then be used exclusively for buying more park land elsewhere. It could not be used to buy park equipment or improve existing park property.

What would happen is a simple process. The land at 22nd and O is valuable as a business property. It should command a price that would permit the city to buy less expensive land elsewhere and end up with five or six times or more real estate than it now has.

The property now is useless for anything other than a beauty spot and, unfortunately though it may be, Lincoln cannot afford beauty spots at the sacrifice of fully developed parks. Maintenance of the area as a beauty spot would be financially prohibitive and development of the surrounding area has made it practically impossible to use the land as an entrance to Antelope Park—the purpose for which it was originally intended.

At 48th and Walker, the city has another valuable business site being used as the operational headquarters in that area for the Street Department. Proceeds from the sale of this land could also provide funds to acquire a much needed larger area elsewhere in the general vicinity.

Funds Better Placed

The present Street Department quarters at 48th and Walker are too cramped and too old. Operations could be greatly improved with more land area and even a more strategic location could be secured.

It is hoped that the land sale proposition is not so lost in other things that it is not understood by the voters. Lack of understanding would invoke skepticism which, in turn, would lead to votes against the issue for the sake of safety. This would be a mistake and a loss to all taxpayers.

Demos Push Ike's School Aid Bill

WASHINGTON—The fur really flew at the closed-door session of a House Education and Labor subcommittee, when Democrats, in a surprise move, forced the Republicans to accept the old Eisenhower school aid bill which Eisenhower had let fall by the wayside.

Congressman Frank Thompson of New Jersey, Lee Metcalf of Montana, and Stuart Udall of Arizona caught their GOP colleagues completely off guard by suddenly moving for approval of the Eisenhower bill. In order to save Republican embarrassment, Democratic Chairman Cleveland Bailey of West Virginia cleared the hearing room for a secret discussion. After the public was shooed out, GOP Rep. Frelinghuysen of New Jersey expostulated:

"This is most unfair. The gentleman from Montana is engaging in a clever maneuver, obviously designed to embarrass the President and put Republicans on the spot. The President was for this measure last year, but he didn't include it in his legislative program this year."

"I can't see anything unfair about it," replied Metcalf, "but if you promised to support the Eisenhower bill, as many of you did last year, then I will admit you are on the spot. We're giving you a chance to back up what the President requested."

"You're just playing politics," persisted Frelinghuysen, bristling angrily.

"The only politics I am playing is to try to get out a school bill to answer the crying need for more classrooms," responded Metcalf.

"I don't care whether it's a Republican or a Democratic bill, as long as it offers a solution to the problem. If the President was for this bill last year, there is even more reason for him to be for it this year, because the need for school construction has increased."

"But the President hasn't resubmitted a request for action at this time," argued Frelinghuysen.

"Maybe not, but I feel Congress should do something for our schools, whether or not the President has seen fit to reinclude it in his budget," countered Metcalf.

"I'm tired of seeing some of our Republican friends duck out on this matter on the specious excuse that Democrats have changed something the President has proposed and that it isn't any longer 'the President's bill.' Well, we're not changing this one as much as one comma."

"This is the exact bill Ike sent to Congress—and we're giving him and the Republican members of Congress an opportunity to prove that they meant what they said when they said they were for federal aid to schools."

In a showdown vote, the three Republicans—Frelinghuysen, Harry Haskell (Del.), and John Lafore (Pa)—voted "no" making it a tie—3 to 3. Chairman Bailey then broke the tie by voting with the Democrats. In order to save the Republicans from public embarrassment it was then agreed to announce a "voice" vote and Bailey ordered the Democrats not to discuss what had happened in the closed-door session.

Stassen Entered In Lions Den

PHILADELPHIA—Dogged, determined, solemn as an owl, Harold E. Stassen is out to prove in this politically hardboiled state that you can do what the professionals say is impossible.

A Pennsylvanian by virtue of the fact that he was President of the University of Pennsylvania from 1948 to '53, Stassen has come back into the state to run in the Republican primary for Governor. This breaks down all comparisons. It is Daniel in the lions' den, David against Goliath, the first man to go over Niagara Falls in a barrel.

When Stassen formally announced his intention to run, laughter that went up could have been heard from Maine to Florida. The regular Republicans, and not only in Pennsylvania, regarded this as an opportunity to do something they had wanted to do for a long, long time. That was to bury the maverick Harold Stassen once and for all.

Today the laughter is hardly audible. Stassen is given a good chance to win the nomination on May 20 in a three-way race against two regular Republicans. His headquarters is putting out the results of a private poll showing Stassen a two to one favorite among registered Republicans.

However much this poll is discounted, the fact remains that Stassen has stirred up the animals in a primary that is customarily as casually and yet as certainly ticketed as a trip on the Pennsylvania Railroad. Stassen sees his task as primarily that of having a sufficient organization in most of Pennsylvania's 67 counties to get out the registered Republicans who are for him.

He started from scratch since, in response to letters to 67 county chairmen, he got a resounding and unanimous no. Stay out, was their advice, and some put it in harsher terms, calling him a carpet bagger, which has been a frequent charge in his campaign.

Stassen was elected governor of his native Minnesota in 1938 when he was 31 years old, the youngest governor in the United States. He was re-elected three times before he entered the Navy. After the war he moved onto the national scene as a candidate for President. If he were to win the primary and then the election in November, he would be only the second man in American history to be governor of 2 states. Sam Houston was governor of Tennessee and then, toward the close of his extraordinary career, he was elected governor of Texas.

In many counties Stassen now has his own chairmen who have broken away from the tightly-knit party organization.

Wonders Of The Universe

Many scientists have speculated on the manner in which space communications will be established at some future date when travel between the planets materializes. When time and distance are combined so violently as in space travel, the voice communication systems will be both inefficient, costly and in some cases impossible.

What may actually happen is that a rocket crewman will type out a message on a tape, which will be fed into a high-speed transmitter. The tape will zip through the transmitter in a matter of seconds, no matter how long the message. Incoming messages will similarly arrive at high speed, and be typed from tape with perfectly legible quality. With a built-in checking system there never need be a fear of error.

American engineers already have sent radar signals to the moon and received them on the rebound. They are fairly convinced that radio waves three centimeters long can be used for space communications over enormous distances, since they are short enough to permit easy penetration of the ionized layers of the upper atmosphere and long enough not to be masked by water vapor absorption bands.

They would use a frequency modulation system (the FM system known to most of us) because it has already demonstrated it can reach the moon with a power of only three-tenths of a watt. This power, by the way, is about the power consumed in a three-cell flashlight.

Now, when we go beyond the moon we run into real difficulties. If we wished to communicate with Mars, one of the closest planets to the earth, the radio transmission system would demand a 7,000 watt transmitter. Since signal strength weakens as the square of the distance, then to communicate with Pluto would take 75,000,000 watts.

To reach Mars when it is roughly 40,000,000 miles away, a radio signal would require 215 seconds of travel time. In that 215 seconds Mars would have moved 3,000 miles. However, when Mars is on the other side of the sun and 235,000,000 miles away from the earth, the radio signal would travel for 1,250 seconds and Mars would have sped 18,000 miles along its orbit.

The possibility of space-ships communicating with each other directly is somewhat remote, since aiming a radio signal requires parabolic antennas. Such devices on a speeding rocket could not be positioned with any great accuracy, so the best system probably will be to use earth as a "central" to relay signals from ship to ship.

Here the high-speed teletype transmission could relay messages in a flash and at the same instant check the accuracy of the original message with the ship which originated it.

Right To Petition

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Heretofore the first of May has been traditionally known as May Day. Henceforth, unless knocked out by a popular referendum, it will be known as wheel tax day.

If the initiative petitions are subjected to the same sabotaging procedures as the referendum petitions, we may soon be receiving letters from the wheels, soliciting and inviting signature withdrawals. I do not expect to withdraw my signature from the petitions, even though offered the alternative of getting free board and room at the county bastille.

The job intimidations so evident to secure signature withdrawals from the referendum petitions indicate an historic low in the morals of our fair city. The right to sign a petition, irrespective of the entrenched plutocracy, has always been as inalienable as the right to vote. And if the residents of Lincoln have lost their right to vote on a $16.5 million gray train, they may as well start circulating petitions to close the polling places.

LEO N. BARTUNEK

Why Sales Tax?

Hastings, Nebr.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The PTA could be in better business than in circulating the Nebraska Tax Equity Council's petitions. You will be asking for a retail sales tax when you sign one.

With all property escaping taxation, only a sales tax and an income tax is left, with which to keep state government alive.

Why does Sen. Otto and the PTA want a retail sales tax? They want it because it will produce 3 times as much money as a state property tax and it's spending money they are after. Who will pay it—whom will they wring it from?

Those who have been paying property taxes as well as others, for state support. That is where it will come from.

A retail sales tax is a most vicious and disreputable tax. The ability to pay is not even considered. It is the fellow unable to pay, that the tax will catch the hardest. The widow washerwoman will pay the same tax as Sen. Otto pays for a dollar's worth of meat.

Perhaps he calls that tax, an "equity tax." Likewise the PTA. But equity in taxing in behalf of state government is in having all property in the state on state tax roles.

No Apology Needed
Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I have written Mrs. Dudley Bailey and the Lincoln League of Women Voters to thank them for their generous expression in the matter of the incomplete questionnaire. No apology was needed, certainly; full opportunity to correct the situation has been had; and I hope we can proceed to forget about it. I'm sure all candidates appreciate the importance of the League's work and the high purposes which motivate it.

Ike 'Un Schoen Baseball Onhanger'

NEW YORK—"Eisenhower fluchte ungeriert!" looked like a pretty ominous headline when we noticed it one day last week in Dusseldorf.

The newspaper was the usually pro-American "Die Welt." So we took the matter to Serge Fliegiers, dean of International News Service's school of languages. He gave us an illuminating but strictly literal translation of the article. It turned out to be a sports piece by the paper's Washington correspondent, a Herr R.R. The headline meant "Eisenhower swore unembarrassedly!" The text follows:

"Eisenhower wore a light sweater under his sports jacket. He kept his broad rimmed hat on the head as he the first ball into the field threw, the first ball with which the President, the new American baseball season opened.

"Players and club managers stood smiling near and behind him and the whole scene found itself under the control of secret police (when the President to the baseball goes, even secret policemen as umpires are put along the lines).

"Baseball has the President these days anyway given a lot of joy, yes, even satisfaction. It has itself for the first time been confirmed that the President a good eye for young baseball talent possesses. The Pittsburgh Pirates, a famed baseball profit club, have taken a young colored named Preston Bruce.

"Mr. Rickey, president of the baseballklub had, at an official eating, from the President the recommendation received to himself the young player to assure. This information reported Eisenhower's Press Secretary James Hagerly has the President with great satisfaction to knowledge taken. To this one must know: Eisenhower is a possessed-by-ghosts baseball onhanger, (ed. note: fan) although he this game only relatively a short while personally played has.

"Especially, he is a passionate and dedicated golf player, and he has just now in this sport which him for decades everywhere accompanied has, despite his three heavy illnesses, never the desire lost.

"'Golf is brilliant,' has Eisenhower's Doctor Snyder the president advised. 'But he must not over every mistake become upset and already never about this curse. 'Better it would be himself also over his mistakes to amuse.'

"It was on the golf course of Thomasville, Georgia, as Eisenhower for the first time according to this prescription played," Die Welt's man continued.

"The first both balls fired he, however, from the first tee into the woods, which means into the rough. The President looked dark. As for him, also on the third tee the drive failed, cursed he unembarrassedly, as in the old time.

"But then the smile and look here: The fourth ball was in order."

Seeds Of New Life Floating Out In Space?

New York (AP)—Seeds of new life could be floating far out in space. Some might have fallen to earth to begin life here long ago. Hunting for these seeds could be a job for one of our earth satellites, a biologist suggests. It could be designed to capture living spores or viruses encountered as it raced through space.

Itinerant Laborers To Be Feted

Games, dancing, movies and a dinner are in store for a group of itinerant laborers and families who will be hosted to a party by the Lincoln United Church Women in the recreational building of 1st Presbyterian Church, 17th and F, Monday.

Of Spanish descent, the expected group of 55 persons will include about 25 children. The workers are from the Boyd Asparagus Farms.

Activity, which will include games, dancing and movies, will get underway around 3 p.m. Following this a dinner will be served in the church's fellowship hall.

Mrs. Ed Weaver Jr. will be in charge of the group dancing. The Rev. John Waser, youth fellowship director, and Mrs. Bruce Hazen will direct the games.

Mrs. Jack Wells will serve as interpreter and welcome the group in Spanish.

NU Hosts Annual Meet Of Frosh English Directors

Representatives of 11 colleges and universities of the Great Plains and Rocky Mountain areas attended the annual regional meeting of freshman English directors, held Friday and Saturday at the University of Nebraska.

Dr. Dudley Bailey, director of University of Nebraska freshman English, said the group discussed mutual problems, such as use of graduate teaching assistants, staff loads, and varying levels of freshman English.

Those attending were: Ernest W. Baughman, New Mexico; Walter Edens, Wyoming; Gene B. Hardy, Nebraska; William C. Hummel, Kansas State; Jack Kendall and Victor Elconin, Oklahoma; A. I. R. Kitzhaber and Edgar Wolfe, Kansas; Joseph S. Marshall, South Dakota; John P. Noonan, Kansas State; J. D. A. Ogilvy, Colorado; L. H. Stimmel, Colorado State; and W. O. S. Sutherland, Texas.

Edwards Named As Police Chief

Holdrege, Neb. — Former Grant, Neb., police chief, Russell W. Edwards has been named to replace Robert Harr who resigned as Holdrege police chief to work as special investigator for the Burlington Railroad.

Edwards has been attached to the Holdrege force since 1955, and before that was with the Grant force for 10 years, 4 years as chief.

Or the experiment might prove that space is completely sterile.

One old theory is that life came to our earth out of space, perhaps from some distant planet, in the form of spores or virus-like particles.

Pushed By Light

Light waves could have pushed them on long journeys through the universe, because light exerts a tiny push or pressure. When the spores reached earth, they could come out of their long hibernation and start life. Perhaps all living things came from one kind of spore, or separate spores or life-giving particles fell to earth.

Testing this idea with a satellite is suggested by Dr. Wallace O. Fenn, president of the American Institute of Biological Sciences (AIBS).

Far from supporting the theory, Dr. Fenn thinks the intense ultraviolet radiation out in space would kill any unprotected living cells. Ultraviolet light is well known as a germ killer.

It would be helpful to get direct proof that space is sterile, and this would help dispose of the old theory, he writes. It's possible, though, that the satellite might find dead spores far out in space.

Life On Moon

Satellites could also be used to learn whether there are any kinds of living cells on the moon.

Dr. Fenn mentions these possibilities in outlining the important roles biologists can play in the new space age.

One big question is whether humans can survive in space, whether they can withstand the terrible force of rocket takeoff, peculiar weightlessness in space, and intense radiation from cosmic rays.

The earth's atmosphere stops most cosmic rays, which are atomic particles streaming in from space. Even so, about 1,000 per minute hit you on earth. Will the fiercer bombardment higher up cause radiation sickness or other damage to living things?

The 'Beer' Test

A kind of beer of living yeast cells is one method of testing, suggested by a committee of the AIBS and Office of Naval Research. Effects of cosmic radiation on the yeast can be measured as a satellite wheels around the earth.

Devising new, foolproof methods of supplying humans with food and air inside pressurized, sealed cabins are other challenges of space biology, Dr. Fenn writes.

Space may also disclose secrets helpful to humans living on earth—no one can ever predict the value of fundamental new scientific knowledge.

NU Staff Member Finishes Guided Missile Seminar

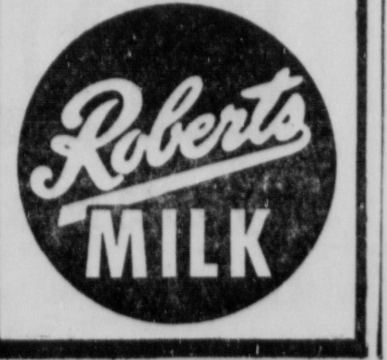

Lt. Norris P. Swanson of 1311 No. 43rd has returned to Lincoln after completing a 2-week seminar concerning guided missile training and other naval training problems at the U.S. Naval Training Device Center, Port Washington, N.Y.

Lt. Swanson was one of 30 civilian scientist, engineers, executives and science instructors, all members of Naval Research Reserve Groups from all parts of the nation, who were called to active duty for the 8th annual seminar.

Swanson is employed at the University of Nebraska by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Purpose of the program was to help Reservists become familiar with the scientifically designed equipments and techniques used in the train-

Jaycees Elect Elwonger After Record Balloting

Omaha (AP) — Byford Elwonger of Auburn Sunday afternoon was elected president of the Nebraska Junior Chamber of Commerce, climaxing the longest continuous balloting session in state Jaycee history.

Elwonger's election came after the 11th ballot, with Myron Milder of Omaha conceding the presidency when it appeared that neither would get the required two-thirds majority.

Keith Blackledge of North Platte, a third candidate for the presidency, withdrew on the second ballot.

The Mrs. Jaycees organization, meeting in connection with their husbands' session, chose Mrs. Robert Auten of Columbus as state president.

William Burnham of Alliance was announced as the "outstanding first year Nebraska Jaycee member" and was presented the Harold Swan award. Robert Fricke of Hastings was runnerup.

Lincoln Wins

Mark Buchholz of Lincoln won the "speak up Jaycee contest" and Robert Copenhaver of Omaha was runner-up.

Named national directors of the Nebraska Jaycees were Jim Roberts of Hastings, Bob

Buchholz

Behrends

Wait of Sidney and Bill Mounford of Red Cloud.

Elected vice presidents of the state organization were: Bill Behrends of Lincoln, Virgil Hatch of Lexington, Jim Hill of Falls City, Dick Smith of Sidney, Harold Smock of Plattsmouth; Ernie Sorge of Scottsbluff, Ken Sunderman of Norfolk, Marce Van Wort of Shelton, and Jim Kammerzill of Gordon.

The Mrs. Jaycees organization named these vice presidents: Mrs. Wilbur Voss of Lincoln, Mrs. Vern Anthony of Sidney, Mrs. Chiam Farber of Omaha, Mrs. Jack Baker of Grand Island, Mrs. Roger Livingston of York, Mrs. Douglas Manser of West Point, Mrs. Joseph Nosky of Crete, Mrs. Harold Meyers of Norfolk and Mrs. Donald Egr of Omaha.

The Sunday session, with balloting on the presidency the major consideration, began at 9 a.m. and ended about 3:15 p.m.

The convention was the largest in the history of the organization with a registration of more than 640.

Hastings To Host Episcopal Women

Hastings, Neb. (AP) — The 72nd annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Episcopal diocese of Nebraska is scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday in Hastings.

It will be held in conjunction with the annual council of the diocese and is expected to attract some 150 women representing all Episcopal parishes in the state.

A highlight will be an address Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Arthur Sherman, national executive secretary of the women's auxiliary. She has been executive secretary since 1941.

... Rock Creek Tour Postponed By Bad Roads

By Bill Hinel

Fairbury, Neb. — Nearly 300 persons were served at a banquet of the Nebraska State Historical Society at the Fairbury High School gymnasium Sunday. The occasion was the spring meeting of the society, and hosts were members of the Jefferson County Historical Society, headed by Levi Boyd, president.

Master of ceremonies was Marshall Hansen of Wahoo, a former Fairburian.

Special guests were Mari Sandoz, Nebraska author now of New York City, and Dr. Harold H. Dunham, of Denver, Colo., professor of history at the University of Denver.

Dr. Dunham retraced the history of the pony express.

Elected to honorary memberships on the board were Miss Sandoz and Charles Simmons of Scottsbluff.

At the noon meeting, Dr. W. D. Aeschbacher, director of the Historical Society, revealed the names of those Gov. Victor Anderson has invited to serve as members of the board of directors of the Nebraska Pony Express Centennial Assn. Gov. Anderson named himself; A. C. Eichberg, the governor's administrative assistant; Aeschbacher; General Warren C. Wood of Gering; Paul Jenkins of Gothenburg, president of the Nebraska Horse Club Assn.; Charles C. Osborne of Hastings, member of the Historical Society executive board; Dr. James C. Olson of Lincoln, chairman of the Department of History, University of Nebraska; and Merrill E. Mattes of Omaha, regional historian, region 2.

National Park Service.

Other guests attending Sunday's meeting included members of the board of the State Historical Society: Osborne; Frank Latenser of Omaha; Arthur Carmody of Trenton; Gen. Wood; Louis Holmes of Grand Island; Dr. John White, librarian of the state Historical Society; Marvin Kivett, past director of the museum; Dr. Donald Danker, archivist; Mrs. Phyllis Winkelman, director of education for the society; Dr. James Olson, chairman of the Department of History at the University of Nebraska and former superintendent of the society; and Dr. James Sellers, president of the society.

Go To Endicott

A scheduled tour of the Rock Creek station south of Jansen, site of the Wild Bill Hickok-McCandles shooting, was postponed due to bad roads. The afternoon program was held at the Endicott High School.

Mrs. Edna Fairchild, a great grandchild of David McCandles, described the shooting incident at the Rock Creek station. Her daughter, Mrs. Merlin Melne of Endicott, was master of ceremonies.

State Fire School Gets Started; Attendance May Reach 1,000

Grand Island, Neb. (AP) — The annual Nebraska Fire School opened Sunday with registration expected to total 1,000 volunteer firemen from 480 departments over the state.

The school is sponsored by the state fire marshal, the department of education, the Nebraska Fire Chiefs Assn., League of Nebraska Municipalities, Nebraska State Volunteer Firemen's Assn., Nebraska Inspection Bureau along with civic and commercial groups.

Gerald Pearson, director of extension centers and classes at the University of Kansas, keyed the opening session with a talk entitled "It's Never Too Late to Learn." Talks on recent developments in fire control research and fire service electronics followed.

Prof. C. J. Frankforter of the department of chemistry, University of Nebraska, discussed at a noon luncheon the hazards of home-made rockets.

Demonstrations got under way at mid-afternoon, with a show of various methods of attacking airplane crash fires. Instructors assembled 10 old cars at the demonstration grounds in place of a thin aluminum plane fuselage used last year.

The school continues through Tuesday.

Accepting the keys were Dr. Harold F. Friesen, general chairman; Ruben H. Friesen, chairman of the board of trustees; and Adolph Friesen, building and architectural committee chairman.

The Rev. Abe M. Wiebe, president of the northern district of Mennonite churches, delivered the morning sermon.

The afternoon dedicatory address was given by Dr. Erland Waltner, president of the general conference.

Philadelphia Scientist To Speak At NU On Interplanetary Travel

... Planetarium Head Also Author Of Column

The hazards that face man in his efforts to undertake interplanetary travel, as well as advances already made toward the goal, will be explained by a nationally known scientist Thursday morning at the University of Nebraska.

Dr. I. M. Levitt, director of Philadelphia's Fels Planetarium and author of a weekly column, "Wonders of the Universe," which is a feature of The Star's editorial page, will discuss "Space Travel and Satellites" at an all-University convocation at 11 a.m. in the Coliseum. The convocation is open to the public.

Perfect Timepiece
An inventor as well as one of the country's highly respected astronomers, Dr. Levitt has recently perfected the world's first interplanetary timepiece, which he developed especially to aid in charting journeys into space. The Hamilton Space Clock is designed to show the comparative passage of time—by the day, hour, month, and year—on earth and on planets in outer space.

"To all space explorers, the clock would be a matter of life or death," explains Dr. Levitt. "For instance, they would need it to time departures from earth in order to reach destined spots on another planet during daylight hours, and at a suitable season. Also, it would be mighty handy in calculating the precise timing of their homeward journeys." This device, Dr. Levitt adds, is one of the first pieces of scientific apparatus which the

tures from earth in order to reach destined spots on another planet during daylight hours, and at a suitable season. Also, it would be mighty handy in calculating the precise timing of their homeward journeys." This device, Dr. Levitt adds, is one of the first pieces of scientific apparatus which the world's future pioneers into outer space will require.

Designed For Mars
Dr. Levitt designed this first interplanetary clock for Mars since it is "the planet most likely to be the first visited by man once he has escaped the gravitational bondage of earth." Astronomical calculations relating time on other planets could be made as well, making a provision for the different times it takes each planet to rotate.

Another of Dr. Levitt's inventions is the Pulse Counting Photo-electric Photometer which was one of two articles on electronics to win a place in the 1948 Encyclopedia Britannica Year Book.

Urges U.S. Lead
An authority on space travel, Dr. Levitt has urged that the U.S. take the lead in launching a man-made device into space before Russia does so "with its possible tremendous psychological repercussion throughout the entire world."

He proposes a man-made moon that would circle the earth at a height of 200 miles, traveling continuously around the earth. Besides representing perpetual space travel by a humanly contrived device, such a satellite would be a tremendous step in the conquest of outer space and would provide many answers to questions scientists bound to the earth might take many years to solve.

Sponsored by the University's Convocations committee, Dr. Levitt's address at the University will include demonstrations. An informal discussion will follow the speech at 2 p.m. in the Student Union.

Teen-Agers Terrorize Boston—

15 Attacked Or Robbed After Rock'N Roll Meet

Boston (AP)—Fifteen persons, including 6 women, were attacked or robbed by roving gangs of teen-age boys and girls after rioting broke out among 6,000 young people at a rock 'n' roll jam session at Boston Arena.

One victim, Albert Reggiani, 19, of Stoughton, a

Navy sailor, was stabbed repeatedly in the chest. His name was on the danger list at city hospital.

Reggiani was attacked as he left the arena with 2 girl companions, who also were assaulted.

Other victims included a mother of 3 children and her 13-year-old baby sitters. The 3 also had attended the rock 'n' roll show.

Went For Hours
The outbreak, which raged for hours, started as the show broke up and the youngsters spilled out of the arena. Police Lt. John T. Corkery of the Back Bay division said there was no racial angle involved in the rioting.

Alan Freed, New York disc jockey and master of ceremonies at the show, had been denied police permission to dim the lights during the show. Police said Freed told the audience: "I guess the police here in Boston don't want you kids to have a good time."

After police broke up fights outside the arena, the gangs raced through streets in the Roxbury and Back Bay sections, knife, beating and robbing.

Motorcycle Jackets
An all-male gang of about 25 wearing motorcycle jackets or pink coats and bandannas attacked 3 men and robbed them of $50.

Two teen-age girls set upon a woman in a subway terminal, beat her, slashed her arms with a knife and snatched her pocketbook.

In Roxbury a gang of youths beat one man and knifed another in an attempted robbery.

Girl, 15, Hospitalized After 2-Car Collision

A 2-car crash Sunday afternoon at Normal and South resulted in an injured collar bone for Carmen Gease, 15, of 3401 Grimsby Lane. She was admitted to a Lincoln hospital, police reported.

She was a passenger in the car driven by James A. Frank, 18, of 4433 Pawnee when it was in collision with another driven by Beulah L. Besch, 59, of 2937 O. Mrs. Besch suffered an undetermined injury to her right knee. She was not hospitalized, police said.

Lincoln To Observe National Goodwill Week

National Goodwill Week will be observed in Lincoln Monday through Friday with open house at Goodwill Industries, 1717 O.

Tours of the building will be held daily from 1-3 p.m., except Tuesday when tours are set for 1-4 p.m.

A special ribbon-cutting ceremony at 3 p.m. Tuesday with Mayor Bennett Martin participating is scheduled to coincide with a meeting of the Mayor's Committee for Employment of the Handicapped.

Lincoln members of the Governor's Committee for Employment of the Handicapped have been invited to visit.

The local Goodwill Industries is celebrating its 26th year.

U.S. Building Activity Up During April

Washington (AP)—Building activity rose 328 million dollars in April in response to seasonal factors, the government reported Sunday.

The total for the month was $3,700,000,000.

At $13,400,000,000 the total dollar volume of construction in the first 4 months of the year was slightly ahead of the same period in 1957, the report from the Commerce and Labor Departments said. This was due to cost increases, however. The monthly construction report noted that "the physical volume of work put in place probably did not increase."

The construction estimate reflected a 5% increase in state, federal and local building activity from the first 4 months of last year. This was due primarily to heavier outlays on highways and increased spending on public housing, mostly dwellings at military posts for the families of servicemen.

Private construction outlays so far in 1958 are abreast of a year ago at $9,600,000,000, the report said.

Spending on residential construction in the January-through-April period totaled $4,648,000,000, fractionally above a year ago. This figure included additions and alterations as well as new dwelling units. It accounted for nearly half the total of private building in each year.

Hadassah Founder Dies

New York (AP)—Mrs. Lena Kaplan, 75, a founding member of Hadassah, the Women's Zionist Organization of America, died at her Manhattan home. Mrs. Kaplan also was a member of Hadassah's first board of directors. The organization was founded in 1912.

'Best' Seen In Next 10 Years

... By Sec. Weeks

Stratford, Va. (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Weeks took a 10-year look into the future Sunday and said that, regardless of current economic problems, "the best is yet to be."

The nation's total output of goods and services 10 years hence should total 580 billion dollars a year, he said, compared with 434 billions last year. Assuming again that the growth trend of the past 50 years continues, he forecast a 10-year rise in personal income to 460 billion dollars from 343 billions.

"Today," Weeks said, "when the shadow of the atomic cloud darkens the sky and worry about unemployment disturbs many homes, we need a strengthening of good old American faith in ourselves and in our nation's destiny."

Points To Past 10
In the past 10 years, he said, the national product increased 35% and personal income 37%.

"It is well to remind ourselves that these growth characteristics... are continually in evidence and that the best is yet to be," he said.

In looking ahead, Weeks said the 10,000-mile interstate superhighway network will be nearing completion. In that work, he said, enough earth will be moved to cover a state the size of New Jersey nearly knee deep in dirt and rock. He said the structural steel needed could erect 200 skyscrapers the size of the Empire State building.

FIRST STEP to family security

BMA's Family Plan insures father, mother and children (including future arrivals) with one policy, one premium. And, it combines both protection and savings in a single convenient plan.

For Dad, $5,000 permanent life insurance protection. He accumulates a savings fund as he protects the family. Optional additional monthly family income from $50 to $200.

For Mother, $1,000 term insurance if she is dad's age—more if younger, less if older, until he is 65, or until his death. It can then be converted to permanent insurance. If mother dies before dad, her insurance becomes payable and, in addition, dad receives an additional $1,000 of term insurance until he reaches age 65.

For Children, $1,000 term insurance for each insured child until age 21, or until dad is age 65, or until his death—whichever occurs first. At expiration, their protection may be changed to permanent insurance up to FIVE TIMES the original amount. Future arrivals automatically included when they are 14 days old—without any increase in premium.

Cost: as little as $8.00 a month at age 25... $11.04 a month at 35, per unit. You may apply for as many as three units.

Take this important step to family security now. Call your BMA representative for the whole story about the BMA Family Plan.

College Religious Trend Is Toward Campus Units

The last 10 years has seen a gradual but definite shift in the planning of religious work in college campus ministry, according to the Rev. Alvin Petersen, pastor of the Lutheran Student House at the University of Nebraska.

Speaking at a meeting of the American Interprofessional Institute in Lincoln, the Rev. Mr. Petersen said, "Going from the earlier concept of a close affiliation with the local churches, the trend has been toward a college church unit with a full program, intended to integrate the student's religious experience and activity with his daily life."

"His religion presents itself as an integral part of living the life of a student. It thus becomes a guard against thoughtless conformity and emphasis upon 'Doing as the Romans do,'" Rev. Petersen said.

IOWA DRIVER PINNED UNDER TRUCK 2 HOURS

Red Oak, Iowa (AP)—A Washington, Iowa, truck driver, was trapped for nearly 8 hours early Sunday when his semitrailer truck left highway 100 2 miles west of Lyman. He is 24-year-old Edwin Sueppel.

Sueppel was pinned beneath the overturned truck and a creek bank when discovered about 8 a.m. by 2 men out looking for fishing bait.

Sueppel was returning from Omaha when he apparently fell asleep and the truck left the highway. The truck glanced off a bridge and went down a deep embankment into a shallow creek.

The 2 fishermen, Wayne Erickson and Kenneth Martin of Cumberland, went past and happened to notice the accident.

Sueppel suffered a broken ankle, hip and shoulder. He was in fairly good condition at a Red Oak hospital Sunday night.

Indonesian Government Scores Gain

Jakarta, Indonesia (Monday) (AP)—Government forces have captured the rebel's Sumatran capital of Bukittinggi. West central Sumatra was one of the last major rebel holdings on the big island.

The mountain stronghold fell 12 days after the rebels pulled out their main force and moved their headquarters to Batusangkar, deeper in the Barisan mountain range.

Jakarta radio said Col. Jani, chief of the loyalist force, had called on government officials and police to return to their posts and urged rebel soldiers to surrender. An army intelligence officer told reporters, however, he could not say yet whether any of the rebel leaders had been captured.

Bukittinggi fell a day after government forces had seized the town of Padangpandjang, some 12 miles south of the capital.

The rebels lately have stepped up their activity in east Indonesia, posing President Sukarno's government with the necessity of stepping up its campaign on that side of the archipelago, 1,800 miles to the east of central Sumatra.

Supper Party At The Fraizers

It was a fun party Sunday evening when Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Fraizer entertained at a supper to honor Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Desmond, Jr. It was especially fun for Mr. and Mrs. Desmond who, preceding their marriage last autumn, were kept on the hop, skip and jump with an exhausting number of pre-nuptial courtesies. During all of these pre-wedding festivities Mr. and Mrs. Fraizer were traveling in Europe—so they chose a party in the spring with which to compliment Mr. Desmond and his bride, the former Sally Skutt of Omaha.

Early Summer Bride Held Tour

A series of courtesies also are on the agenda these spring days for a bride-to-be of early summer, Miss Kay Jean Thompson, who has chosen June 14 as the date for her marriage to Roger L. Brown.

On Sunday evening, a dessert supper and linen shower will honor Miss Thompson.

Election

The Sigma Delta Tau Alumnae met recently at the home of Mrs. Alan Katskee. During the meeting, the following officers were elected: president, Mrs. Leonard Mozer; recording secretary, Mrs. Arthur Hill; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Paul Galter; treasurer, Mrs. Floyd Cuklin; and chapter advisors, Mrs. Norman Krivosha and Mrs. Gerald Kushner.

Alumnae

The alumnae of Sigma Kappa sorority met for dinner recently with members of the active chapter. Following the dinner, the newly-elected officers of the alumnae group were installed.

The officers include Mrs. W. J. Misko, president; Mrs. Samuel D. Smith, vice president; Mrs. Charles F. Shuler, secretary; Mrs. A. J. Whitmer, corresponding secretary; Mrs. C. Mervyn Downs, treasurer; and Mrs. Bernard Nider, historian.

Club Tour

Members of the North Bluff Extension Club and the Sharon Extension Club will join for a tour by bus to Beatrice on Wednesday, May 21.

The April meeting of the North Bluff Club was held at the home of Mrs. Walter Patterson. The lesson on furniture arrangement was given by Mrs. Don Meyers and Mrs. Terlow Erickson.

Brides At Early May Weddings

MRS. GLENN SEDLACEK

Miss Kay Bridger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Bridger, became the bride of Glenn Sedlacek, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sedlacek, at a ceremony solemnized on Sunday, May 4, at Christ Methodist Church. In the presence of 200 guests, Dr. Lloyd E. Watt read the lines of the service before an altar appointed with yellow and white gladioli.

Miss Cleo Powell, as the maid of honor, appeared in a frock of pastel green fashioned with a lace basque and full tulle skirt, and carried white and green-tinted carnations. Costumed identically in pastel shades of yellow, orchid and pink, were the bridesmaids, Miss Mary Jean Shestak, Dorchester, Mr. s. Roy Alley and Mrs. George Reinhardt. Miss Sheila Hocker was the flower girl, and Steven Alley carried the ring.

Serving as best man was Richard Knollenberg of Crete, and the ushers were Roger Bridger and William Sedlacek.

White Chantilly-type lace and tulle were chosen by the bride for her wedding gown. Iridescent sequins patterned the high collar and long-sleeved bodice of lace, and below the slim waist, a lace peplum extended into the full skirt of tulle which was trimmed with jeweled appliques of the lace. Her illusion veil was held by a lace cap, and she carried a cascade of roses.

Upon their return from a Colorado wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Sedlacek will make their home in Lincoln.

MRS. ORVILLE MEYER

At a late afternoon ceremony solemnized on Sunday, May 4, Miss Lola Kuhlmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodor Kuhlmann of Sterling, became the bride of Orville Meyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Meyer of Weeping Water. Pink and white carnations and gladioli decorated the chancel of St. John's Lutheran Church at Sterling for the service, which was read by the Rev. Arthur Langholz.

Miss Donna Kuhlmann of Sterling, as her sister's maid of honor, wore a frock of rose crystal over taffeta. Costumed identically in shades of pink were the bridesmaids, Miss Ellen Meyer, Humboldt, Mrs. Richard Keckler, Weeping Water, and Mrs. Don Miller, Tecumseh; and Miss Leanna Baehr and Miss Meredith Coleman, Adams, who lighted the chancel candles. Miss Kathleen Lindsey of Otoe was the flower girl.

Serving as best man was A. I. Bickford of Weeping Water, and the ushers were Arvin Meyer, Louisville; Omer Kuhlmann, Sterling; and Larry Meyer, Weeping Water.

The bride appeared in a gown of white Alencon lace and satin. The long-sleeved bodice of lace-over-satin was designed with a rounded decolletage banded with tulle and pearl embroidery, and the full satin skirt, which ended in a train, was trimmed with appliques of the lace.

The couple will reside in Lincoln. Mrs. Meyer attended Peru College and the National Business Institute.

NORTHEAST HEIGHTS

It is our pleasure to welcome newcomers to the suburb, namely, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth D. Zimmerman who moved into their home at 3045 No. 63 the middle of April.

Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman have three children, Gary who attends Pershing School, four-year-old Linda, and one year-old Brenda.

Introductions are also in order for Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Tanner who have been residents of Northeast Heights for just one month.

The Tanner home is at 6240 Adams, and younger members of the family include Sharon, a student at Pershing School; Jim, and Donald, who is serving with the Navy aboard the U.S.S. Pine Island at San Francisco.

Entertaining at a welcoming coffee on Friday, April 25, given in honor of Mrs. Zimmerman and Mrs. Tanner was Mrs. K. E. Logan. Invited for the informal neighborhood affair were Mrs. George Lebsack, Mrs. Donald Broman, Mrs. J. L. Patterson, Mrs. George Kaufman, Mrs. Larry Swihart, Mrs. Edwin Collins, and Mrs. John Swands.

Hear that Mrs. George Kaufman was hostess to the members of her bowling team at a bridge party on Tuesday following a session at the bowling alley. On hand for the afternoon were Mrs. Harvey Kaufman, Mrs. Selma Merriam, Mrs. Donald Broman, Mrs. Cliff Squires, Mrs. Kenneth Logan, Mrs. Donald Towle and Mrs. John Voss.

Mother-Daughter Luncheon

Delta Gamma sorority members and their mothers gathered at the University Club at noon on Saturday for a luncheon. It was a particularly festive occasion for the 100 guests since Miss Helen Gourlay, a member of the sorority, had been presented on Saturday morning as the University of Nebraska May Queen.

From the left are Mrs. William Hall and Dorothy; Mrs. H. E. Lang, Tecumseh, and Carolyn; Mrs. Dale Moorehead, Omaha, and Carol; Mrs. L. R. Lichtenberg and Sandra; and Mrs. E. R. Jorgensen and Bobbie.

Dear Abby . . .

Etiquette Is Important

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: How can you tell a man 39 years old how to eat? He is a bachelor and has lots of good qualities and he has asked me to marry him. He puts his elbows up on the table, licks the knife, cuts his food using the knife between the prongs of the fork. He has passed the State Bar Association, has done a lot of traveling and is a Major in the Reserves so it isn't as though he came out of the hills. I am ashamed to eat out with him and have avoided eating with friends, but if I am going to marry this man something has got to be done. Or am I placing too much importance on table manners?

ASHAMED OF HIM
DEAR ABBY: Table manners ARE important, but even more important is his reaction toward constructive criticism. By all means gather your courage and diplomacy and offer to teach this man how to eat. If you lose him over this—you haven't lost much.

DEAR ABBY: I am 12 years old and my problem is my mother and my grandmother (my mother's mother) who lives with us. I hate to come home from school because they are always fighting. I only bring friends home when I am sure one of them is gone. The way they yell at each other is a disgrace. The worst thing my father can say to my mother is: "You are just like your mother!" Isn't this family a mess?

SICK AND TIRED
DEAR ABBY: It sure is: The best you can get out of it is a good object lesson in how NOT to be.

DEAR ABBY: I am a young woman of 19 and I do not have a man to call my own. There is one man who works with me during the day who is rather bashful but he gets very brave at night and calls me up on the phone for no reason at all. He never makes a date with me and always ends up saying, "See you in church!" (very funny!!!) He is nice to talk to but how can I get him to ask me out?

DEAR IMPATIENT: This "bashful telephone Lothario" is NOT calling you for "no reason at all . . . he is definitely interested in knowing you better. Invite HIM over, and you might really see him in church one day—in front of a minister.

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine advised me to go ahead and marry this girl who was my first love, although I don't think she would make a very good wife for reasons I don't care to have you put in the paper. He says that if I don't marry my first love she will pop up in my dreams and spoil any other marriage I have. Is this friend of mine talking through his hat or do you think there is sense in what he is advising me to do?

DEAR J.C.D.: Your friend is talking through his hat. If you feel that your "first love" will not make a good wife, don't marry her.

CONFIDENTIAL
TO VIOLA: Two might be able to live as cheap as one—but when they live together as man and wife, there is always a possibility of a "third" to consider. Think it over, Honey!

If my instructions have been followed, a Japanese fish flag should be flying over my house this morning.

This is a big day in Japan. Boy's Day.

All over Japan, great, streaming cloth fish fly over the houses in honor of the boy or boys who live there. A very fine custom. Nobody ever flew a flag for me. But I am determined to fly a red-and-gold cloth carp for my boy.

***

The other day I went down and bought a Boy's Day flag. I bought it at Matsuya, the big department store on the Ginza in Tokyo. I airmailed it to my daughter. I told her to run it up the pole this day.

When I was a boy, we thought carp was a mighty poor fish.

But in Japan, the carp has very many qualities.

My cloth carp was sold to me by a pretty Japanese store girl.

"This fish climb waterfall. This means boy in whole life, he have many hard things—how I say? In life many people never get up hard things. Very hard to climb waterfall, ne?"

"This mean boy must be like fish. Can climb hard waterfall."

"After catch this fish, you know? Before cook? You put on we call manaita. Chopping block? This fish when he feel knife, he never move. All other fish jump, jump. Try to get away. This fish, no."

"He suffer his fate. Lie very still. Die."

"Other fish move so much. They say, 'I don't want die.' But this fish know he get killed very soon. He lie still. Accept."

"Boy must be the same."

"That seems very sad, ma'am."

"Yes, very sad. But like samurai. If he die, he cut belly himself. He smile while cut."

I must remember to tell my boy not to run around with sharp things. Like scissors. Or knives.

It is all right to die gracefully. But I do not think we should be in any hurry.

It is OK if he can swim up a waterfall. I will go along with that.

***

March 3 was Girl's Day. I am sorry I missed that. Girls do not have to get on the chopping block. Nor swim up hard waterfalls. Girls lead a soft life. That is this boy's opinion on Boy's Day.

"When girl baby come, March 3 next year, all people give present."

These presents are put up on a little celebration stand. It looks like a set of wooden steps.

"First year," said the shop girl, "must put at top two dolls. Man and woman doll. These doll Emperor and wife. Must go on top step."

"Second floor, three girl doll. Serve for Emperor. One carry sake. One carry food. Third floor, five man doll. Goninbayashi. All these doll play music."

"Fourth floor, Four doll. Call getamochi. They carry geta—you know—wood slipper for wear outside?"

***

"On bottom floor," said the Matsuya girl, "all food. All together floors make like Japanese doll house."

"This means what?"

The girl said she was not sure. "Maybe just for celebration for girl."

On this day, everybody must drink a special sweet sake in honor of girls.

But on Boy's Day, we put special leaves in the Japanese bath. This morning my hotel will bring a handful of these leaves. They have a special smell. You do not have to have a boy in the house for these leaves. Even public bathhouses use them on such a day. It makes boys grow up.

A pity. That boys should have to grow up. But that is what we do in Japan this day. I did not get such treatment when I was a boy. I think I got a bath. But I fought it. Every inch of the way.

OUR CUSTOMERS TOLD US...

They want to know FACTS ABOUT PUBLIC POWER IN NEBRASKA

Only about two-thirds of those responding to Consumers Public Power District's recently-completed customer survey realized that Consumers is publicly owned—that each customer is a part-owner. Almost all said they would like to know more about public power in Nebraska. Therefore, these brief facts:

- Consumers Public Power District serves 356 Nebraska communities acting both as a generation and distribution agency. Through its network of over 4000 miles of transmission lines, reaching from border to border throughout the state, it also distributes to cities, industries, and farms power generated by other Nebraska power agencies.
- Consumers, organized in 1939 under an act of the Legislature, is owned entirely by the people it serves.
- The voice of Consumers owners is expressed by a board of seven directors elected by the voters of the communities it serves at retail.
- Consumers' financing is entirely from private sources; it is entirely without aid from tax funds, government grants or loans, or other subsidies.
- Consumers enjoys a sound credit rating in the financial world.
- Net earnings of the District are returned to its owners through (1) the redemption of revenue bonds, thereby increasing the owners' equity in the system; (2) additions and improvements to the system, and (3) rate reductions.

CONSUMERS PUBLIC POWER DISTRICT

Senate Braces For Major Battle On Jobless Pay

Washington (AP)—The Senate is squaring away for a monumental battle over jobless pay legislation with the outcome likely to depend on the success of Republicans in renewing their coalition with southern Democrats.

If Republican supporters can enlist enough conservative Democrats in the Senate, they hope to win passage of an emergency extension of unemployment compensation in approximately the same form in which it passed the House last Thursday.

Although this bill varies in some substantial respects from President Eisenhower's recommendations, Sen. William F. Knowland of California, the Republican minority leader, has reported the President pleased with the House action.

Want Broader Bill

Senate Democrats who like to be described as liberals will meet this week in an effort to agree on a formula they all can support in an attempt to broaden the measure to cover an additional million unemployed and to have the federal government pay most of the emergency costs.

As passed by the House, the bill calls for pay-back assistance to the states for a temporary extension of benefits to insured workers who exhaust their rights under state systems between July 1, 1957 and April 1, 1959. This was put on an optional basis with the states. Eisenhower had suggested that it be made mandatory.

The Senate's liberal Democrats want to broaden the measure to include jobless not now covered by unemployment insurance, which would run the total cost up from about 600 million to 1½ billion dollars. They propose that the federal government assume the full cost—a proposal that was buried by a Republican - southern Democratic coalition in the House.

Johnson Holds Key

Whether the liberals make any headway seems likely to depend on the attitude of Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and how successful he is in bringing Dixie Democrats into line.

Johnson has had uncommon success before in breaking apart the Republican - southern Democratic coalition. He demonstrated his ability only last week when he got most of the southerners to go along in voting down Republican-sponsored labor bill amendments that most of them ordinarily would have supported.

Johnson has not said how he stands on the jobless pay bill. But the betting is that he will get behind some proposal offered by Senators John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill), Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn), Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore) and others. Humphrey said he has no doubt that an agreement can be reached within the liberal group on a measure.

$30 SALARY HIKE GIVEN NURSES HERE

A basic salary schedule increase of $30 has been granted to general duty registered nurses in 3 Lincoln hospitals.

Hospitals agreeing to the new scale are Lincoln General, St. Elizabeth and Bryan Memorial.

Beginning monthly salaries were increased to $260. General nurses on night or relief duty will get an additional $20 monthly.

Last previous increase in nurses' salaries was December, 1955, when a $10 raise was okayed.

The St. Elizabeth's pay increases followed a recommendation by a committee appointed to revise personnel policies.

Simmons To Host Jurist From Ceylon

Associate Justice Hugh Fernando of the Supreme Court of Ceylon and Mrs. Fernando will be guests of Nebraska Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert Simmons and his wife this week.

Justice and Mrs. Fernando will arrive in Lincoln late Monday afternoon. Judge Fernando will sit with the Nebraska Supreme Court Tuesday to audit oral argument and witness procedure.

Tuesday evening, he will speak to the annual convention of the National Assn. of Mutual Insurance Agents. Judge Fernando and his wife will be guests of Dean Belsham and members of the faculty of the University of Nebraska law school for lunch earlier that day.

Judge Fernando, former solicitor general of Ceylon and commissioner of Assize, is in America on a leader grant of the U.S. Department of State returning a visit which Judge and Mrs. Simmons made to Ceylon in 1953.

The Ceylon judge and his wife will leave Lincoln Wednesday noon.

Gov. K. M. Munshi and Mrs. Munshi of India will be greeted by Judge and Mrs. Simmons in a late afternoon stopover in Omaha Saturday. The Nebraskans visited the then-governor of Uttar Pradesh Province at Lucknow in 1953.

'Attention' Comrades

Hong Kong (AP)—Radio Peiping has complained that many leading Chinese Communist party cadres are paying little attention to Communism. Such a tendency, the broadcast said, may lead to evil results. It advised "short-sighted and aimless" officials to re-educate themselves and follow the "political line of the masses."

600 Watch Top Music Students Present Concert

An estimated crowd of 600 persons heard the Lincoln Youth Symphony Orchestra give a symphonic concert Sunday in the Northeast High School Auditorium.

More than 80 musical students, the top in the hundreds enrolled in Lincoln's high school music program, made up the orchestra. Standard concert arrangements of the concert numbers were played by the group.

Suzanne Fry, Lincoln High School senior, was featured in "Cello Concerto No. 1, Op. 33" by Camille Saint-Saens. Bernard F. Nevin, in charge of music for Lincoln schools, conducted the orchestra.

Crash Kills 5

Springfield, Ohio (AP)—Five persons, all apparently members of one family, were killed when their car was struck by a New York Central passenger train a mile west of here.

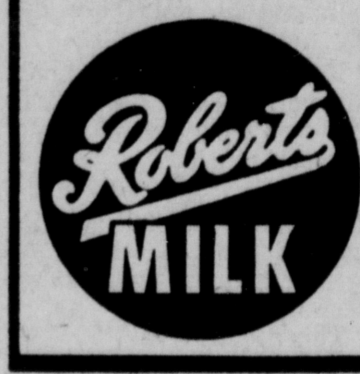

The engineer of the train, Elmer E. Hast, 66, of Columbus, said he saw the 1955 station wagon approaching the crossing but thought it would stop.

The car was dragged about 1,200 feet, trainmen estimated.

DODGERS COPTER BALL

Harshman Tops Tigers As Orioles Sweep Pair

... Nats Trim A's; Tribe-Bosox Split

Baltimore (AP)—A couple of pre-season trades continued to pay heavy dividends for Baltimore Manager Paul Richards Sunday as the Orioles defeated the Detroit Tigers in a doubleheader, 4-3 and 4-0.

Southpaw Jack Harshman, showing no sign of the slipped disc which hampered his work with the Chicago White Sox last year, won his fourth straight game in the nightcap and allowed only five hits.

The first game here was Gene Woodling, who hit a 2-run homer in the opening inning and then threw out a potential tying run at the plate in the eighth to save the victory for 18-year-old pitcher Milt Pappas.

Detroit had runners on second and third with two out in both the sixth and ninth innings, but Harshman bore down to complete his first game of the season.

The left-handed swinging Woodling was benched in the second game when Detroit started southpaw Billy Hoelt, but his replacement came through handsomely. Jim Busby socked a 2-run homer in the second following the first of Brooks Robinson's three singles.

Hoelt, who is now 2-1, gave up one run in the first on two singles and a sacrifice fly by Gus Triandos. The final run in the seventh came off relief pitcher George Spencer when center fielder Harvey Kuenn fumbled Bob Nieman's double allowing Al Piliarek to score from first. The hit was Nieman's third of the game.

Piliarek hit a home run in the eighth inning of the first game off reliever Vito Valentini. Loser Paul Foytack gave up three runs before being lifted in the first.

Woodling, who was booed out of town after a dismal start in the 1955 season but was brought back by Richards from Cleveland last month, was a hero to the 22,746 home town fans. He is hitting only .243 but his blows have been timely, with 8 runs batted in on 9 hits.

Pappas, who will be 19 next Sunday, gave up only one run and five hits before retiring with a pulled tendon in his elbow on the last pitch of the seventh inning. Ken Lehman and George Zuverink finished up.

Carrillo Gains Split For Albuquerque

Amarillo (AP)—Amarillo and Albuquerque split a Western League doubleheader here this warm Sunday afternoon with the Gold Sox taking the opener, 2-1, and the Ducks coming back strong for a 10-1 victory in the afterpiece.

Hard throwing Jim Johnson picked up the first game victory with a fine six hit, 10 strike out performance while Pedro Carrillo three hit the Gold Sox to earn the second game victory.

NU Hosts Cyclones In Track

University of Nebraska's track team, fresh from a victory over Colorado just Saturday, move right back into action today with a dual meet against Iowa State. The meet is slated for the stadium at 4 p.m., with track events at 4:30.

A general rewriting of the record books could be in store.

The oldest mark on the book, a 24.1 in the low hurdles, was set in 1931 by Hager of Iowa State. Both Bill Martin and Keith Young have bettered this mark in competition this season for the Huskers. Bob Brandt of Iowa State will also be gunning for the mark.

Keith Gardner will be firing at his own mark in the high hurdles.

While Nebraska is heavily favored, several fine races should develop. Ron Sanson, Iowa State, fourth in the Big Eight indoor mile, is entered in that event. Mike Fleming, Nebraska, should lower the mile mark of 4:28.8. Fleming has a mark of 4:15.8 scored against Houston and Oklahoma State in a triangular meet here.

Phil Delavan, Iowa State's shot putter, who owns the second best mark in the conference, should win handily in this event. He will be after his own meet record of 54-1 1/2.

Chiefs' Campbell On Active List

Lincoln Chiefs' general manager Dick Wagner announced Sunday night that infielder Jimmy Campbell, who has been on the disabled list with a pulled muscle, has been placed on the active list.

Wagner noted that the Chiefs are expecting several player additions from higher classification clubs early this week.

TOMMY BOLT NIPS VENTURI FOR COLONIAL GOLF CROWN

Fort Worth, Tex. (AP)—Tommy Bolt won the $25,000 Colonial national invitation golf tournament Sunday with 282 for 72 holes that beat out Ken Venturi of San Francisco by one stroke.

Venturi, the handsome young man from San Francisco, made a great bid when he carved a 1-under-par 69 on the 7,021-yard Colonial Country Club course but it was a head-to-head battle down the stretch between Bolt and the famed Ben Hogan that stole the show.

Venturi had finished an hour before Bolt and Hogan, playing in the same threesome, came in. Hogan pulled within a stroke of Bolt but the latter dropped a 30-foot putt on the thirteenth hole that beat off Hogan's challenge. Hogan birdied 14 but on the eighteenth green took a double bogey six and that killed him. Hogan finished with a 73 for 285 and a tie for fifth place.

Bolt shot a cautious 74 in his successful bid for the $5,000 first money.

Venturi won $3,000 second money while Ted Kroll of Sarasota, Fla., and Gardner Dickinson of Panama City Beach, Fla., who had rounds of 70 and 69, tied for third place at 284, winning $1,500 apiece.

Venturi, who was the pre-tournament favorite, had his second straight round of 69 to almost make the predictors' look good.

Bolt, who hails from Paradise, Fla., was winning his first tournament since 1957 when he took the Eastern

Nebraska's baseball team, striving to stay in the Big 8 Conference race after Oklahoma State delivered a near-knockout punch last week, must entertain another contending ball club this week.

Third place Kansas will be here for 3 games Friday and Saturday. The Jayhawks gained by sweeping a trio from Colorado last week while Oklahoma fell from first to fourth with one defeat by Missouri. The other 2 games were rained out.

Missouri took the lead, despite being a half game behind Oklahoma State. The Cowboys swept Nebraska, allowing only one run in each of the 3 games.

The leaders face the second division teams this week, with Colorado at Oklahoma State, Iowa State at Missouri, and Oklahoma at Kansas State.

Other sports activity this week is opened by a dual track meet with Iowa State at 4 p.m. today and capped by the All-Sports Day on Saturday.

Saturday action will include a gymnastics exhibition at 10 a.m., the baseball double-header starting at 11 a.m., windup of spring football drills with the annual Varsity-Alumni affair at 1:30, and a Michigan State-Husker dual track meet at 4 p.m.

In tennis, Creighton is at Nebraska today and NU goes to Omaha U on Wednesday. The golfers have a home date with Omaha on Thursday.

Offutt Thumps Chiefs

Sam Johnson's 4-for-4 hitting, including a pair of triples, led Offutt AFB to an 11-4 victory over the Dorm Chiefs at the State Penitentiary Sunday.

McKinney Gains In Pin Race

Although Marie Johnson appears certain to finish on top among the women in the list of the top bowling averages in the city, the men are still in a scramble.

Bill Koehler maintained his 189 pace in the Bowl-Mor Classic League to stay atop the heap, but lost ground to Jack McKinney, who has a 188 average. McKinney's Roseville Capital City League has completed firing for the year, so he must depend on Koehler falling to finish at the top.

Bob Gant, bowling in the Cornhusker No. 1 at Bowl-Mor, still has a 187 mark.

State's Young Demos To Convene Saturday

The Young Democratic Clubs of Nebraska will open their 2-day bi-annual convention in Lincoln Saturday at the Lincoln Hotel.

Young Demo Chairman Tom Henderson of Lincoln, said a "large turnout" is expected from clubs all over the state, adding that all young Democrats in Nebraska, between the ages of 18 and 38, "will be welcomed into participation."

Registration for the convention opens at 2 p.m., with the first business scheduled at 2:30 p.m. when the platform committee, headed by Wayne J. Thompson Jr. of Lincoln, plans a "spirited discussion of both state and national issues."

Dinner To Honor 2
A 6 p.m. dinner Saturday at the Kopper Kettle will honor Lincoln attorney Frank Morrison, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate, and Robert Conrad of Genoa, executive secretary of the senior Democratic Party in Nebraska.

The platform committee will resume its considerations following the dinner.

All contenders for Democratic nomination to state and national offices have been invited to attend a Candidate's Luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Sunday at the Lincoln Hotel.

California Assemblyman Phillip Burton of San Francisco, chairman of the board of directors of Young Democratic Clubs of America, is tentatively scheduled to speak at the luncheon.

Following the luncheon, the convention members will hear reports on organization and finance from officers, and committee reports will be heard on platform, college and county organization.

Election Sunday
Final matter of business will be the selection of officers and the appointment of activities chairmen.

Officers to be elected include chairman, national committeeman and committeewoman, vice chairman and chairwoman, secretary and treasurer, and representatives for the 4 congressional districts also will be chosen.

Henderson said an 8-member advisory council also will be named to act in conjunction with the senior party state executive committee.

Other posts to be filled, he said, are a Democratic Digest Sales chairman, director of women's activities and a college organization co-ordinator.

Blacksmith Still Active Although 93

Oxford, Neb.—A. A. West, still active as a blacksmith after 70 years at that occupation, claims to be the oldest active blacksmith in the state.

At 93, West still turns his hand at the trade by sharpening farm equipment. His son, Robert, is associated with him in the West Machine and Electric Co.

The elder West came to the Oxford area in 1886 to homestead and began his trade by fixing his own and neighbors' farm machinery.

His first shop was in a sod house on his farm where his blacksmith equipment shared room with his living quarters.

Another honor West can claim is the building of the third automobile existing in Oxford in 1908.

West moved into his Oxford shop in 1897, and still lives in a nearby building which he fixed for living quarters then.

Residents say West can be seen almost any day of the week plying his fast-fading trade.

McMasters Win Title 'Methodist Family Of Year'

Wahoo, Neb.—The Archie McMaster family became the first Wahoo family to be nominated for "Methodist Family of the Year."

They were chosen to represent Wahoo by the local Methodist Church board of directors.

The family consists of McMaster, soil conservation man, World War II veteran and member of the church board, Masonic Lodge and American Legion; Mrs. McMaster, an Eastern Star officer, Rainbow Girls advisor, past president of the extension club, and member of the Legion Auxiliary, and children, Patty, Richard and Robert.

The nominees will be screened on a district level and the national winner will be announced in October.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain, Stops Itching as it Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction, or retraction (shrinking) took place. And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

It's fun to drive an engine that's clean... So drive your engine Keotane-Clean

Every mile you drive... to school... to the grocery... wherever you drive, Keotane gets your engine cleaner, cleaner, cleaner.

Yes, Just By Driving with Keotane, You Can Drive Your Engine Clean

Skelly is the only gasoline with Keotane. Keotane "unglues" dirty carbon and lead deposits — as you drive — to give you over 6c extra value per gallon at no extra cost.

WHY is it so important to have an engine that's clean? Well, you know it's no fun to fight traffic with an engine that's sluggish and slow. You want an engine that will respond instantly to the touch of your toe on the accelerator.

This sluggishness is often caused by dirty carbon and lead deposits that build up on vital engine parts. You can get rid of them quickly and easily, just by driving with Skelly Supreme with Keotane... the cleaning, cleaning gasoline.

All you do is just drive — no more, no less than you normally do — and every mile you drive Keotane is at work to get your engine cleaner, cleaner, cleaner.

A Keotane-Clean engine makes driving a pleasure again. You'll like the new "feel"...

you'll appreciate its new zip and power when your engine is relieved of that burden of smothering carbon and lead deposits.

Because of Keotane, every gallon of Skelly Supreme Gasoline gives you an estimated 6.1c extra value per gallon, including an average of 12.7% more mileage, 14.6% more horsepower output, and the performance effect of 3.1 extra octane points you get with an engine that's Keotane-Clean.

You can easily prove Keotane's most valuable benefit — extra mileage — to yourself. Just ask your Skellyman for a free Skelly Mileage Meter!

Full strength, Keotane dissolves glue-like gum quickly, yet won't harm metal. Injected into Skelly Supreme Gasoline, Keotane removes gum-stuck carbon and lead as you drive. Some cars may reach their peak improvement in 1,000 miles. Others may take 3,000. A few, perhaps longer. But once you reach peak results, you will hold at that level as long as you continue to use Skelly Supreme with Keotane.

Only Skelly Supreme Gasoline Gives You 6.1c Extra Value Per Gallon with Keotane

(Registered U. S. Patent Office)

6.1c makes other premium gasoline expensive to use;
6.1c makes any regular gasoline expensive to use;
6.1c makes any "cut rate" gasoline expensive to use.

Truman's 'Lack

New York (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman said Sunday he thinks President Eisenhower has failed to take the initiative and that the Democratic Congress also has failed to show enough leadership.

He was asked about his 1955 remark that "I think leadership not only in domestic affairs but in world affairs will have to originate in the Congress, because I don't think it will come from the other end of Pennsylvania Avenue (the White House)."

To the question "do you feel that since 1955 President Eisenhower has taken the initiative in recent times?" Truman replied: "I do not."

Not Enough
As to Congress "taking the initiative," Truman said "they are not taking it enough. They should do much more and I hope they will."

He added: "The leadership has got to be someplace, and when it is not at one end of the avenue, it is at the other and I think that the Congress now must wake up and take the leadership unless it goes back to the White House, where I hope it will go."

want the President to be the leader of the free world."

Truman also said that President Eisenhower's proposed reorganization of the Defense Department was a "duplicate" of "a message I sent down for the reorganization of the Defense Department. It was sent from the White House." He did not elaborate.

Truman also was questioned about Israel and Middle East problems. He was asked how far American aid to Israel should go "when it antagonizes the Arab neighbors whose oil we depend on?"

Has A Plan
Truman said, "... the agreements between these countries among themselves is the way that it will be settled, and it will not be settled in any other way until they become accustomed to an economic program that is good for all of them and that can be worked out—I have a plan that will work it out."

His plan, he added, was "that the proper development of the Mesopotamian valley will support nearly 40 million people in luxury if the Tigris and Euphrates rivers are properly harnessed. The same thing can be done with the Nile river in Egypt. Half the water in the Nile goes to waste. And then you have a chance to take care of the people that are hungry. And then there is a rim around the eastern Mediterranean that can be made into an industrial situation and you have it."

He was asked if he thought any progress toward reducing the threat of nuclear warfare could be made by means of a summit conference with the Soviet Union.

"No, I don't at this time," the former president said. "Whenever we get to the point where we can tell them what to do, why then we can do it."

Canada-U.S. Relationships Deteriorating

... Senators Report

Washington (AP)—Two House Foreign Affairs Committee members reported Sunday a rising tide of resentment against the United States is eroding traditionally good relationships between this country and Canada.

Democratic Reps. Frank Coffin (Me) and Brooks Hays (Ark) offered a 9-point remedy to counter what they said was American disinterest in Canada's problems and Canadian irritation with U.S. economic actions.

Their report on a special study mission they made to Canada in December and January was prepared before an announcement that President Eisenhower is planning to visit Ottawa July 8-10.

Informal Talks
Eisenhower, who will be accompanied by Secretary of State Dulles, is expected to carry on a round of informal talks designed to improve relations between the two countries. The President also will address the Canadian parliament.

Commenting on the announcement of Eisenhower's plans, Coffin said he was gratified that Canadian-U.S. relations "have been recognized as suitable for top level attention."

"Such attention is long overdue," he said, adding: "I hope that this will inaugurate an era of continuing and sensitive efforts at increasing mutual understanding between the two nations."

In reporting on last winter's mission, Hays said he found the Canadians are "just as interested as we in working these things out."

The report said Canadians don't like what it called a frequent U.S. attitude that "Canada, like a poor relation, could remain at our beck and call." Canadians, it said, also resent U.S. import restrictions, farm surplus disposals abroad and investments which cause economic troubles for Canada.

Lincoln District Of Methodists To Meet Tuesday

The Lincoln District of the Methodist Church will hold a conference at Trinity Methodist Church Tuesday, according to the Rev. Harold Sandall, district superintendent.

At the meeting, he said, district workers will report on the program and plans for the coming summer. A banquet will be held featuring the various Methodist institutions in the city.

On the evening schedule is a sing to be given by the chorus of the Bryan Nursing School. In addition, Bishop and Mrs. H. Bascom Watts will show slides of their round-the-world trip.

One Engine Out; Plane Forced Down At Omaha

Omaha (AP)—A Flying Tiger Lines Super Constellation plane made an emergency landing at the Omaha municipal airport Sunday afternoon on 3 engines.

The big plane was en route from Chicago to Burbank, Calif.

Capt. John Armstrong, the pilot, said a propeller governor on the right inside propeller failed over Imperial, Neb. Armstrong said he would have landed at Grand Island, Neb., but the right fuel for the plane was not available there.

The air freighter had a crew of 3 and 2 passengers, employees of the company.

Loss Of Freedom Said Companion Of Communism

Communism is a grave danger because of its revolutionary nature, according to the Rev. Donel O'Mahoney S.S., editor of the "Far East" magazine.

Father O'Mahoney, speaking at a Knights of Columbus banquet Sunday night said, "Communism can create political and industrial revolution, but at a terrific cost—the loss of freedom."

Father O'Mahoney, a native of Ireland, spent several years in China at the Columbian Missions. He left in 1949, just before the Communists took over the missions.

Omaha Man Captured In Iowa Manhunt

Tabor, Iowa (AP)—An all-day manhunt centered in woods and fields northeast of Tabor Sunday turned up an Omaha man sought for questioning in a burglary at the Kempton Appliance Store at Randolph.

Sheriff Al Christopher identified the man as Billy Allen (of 1734 S. 13th Street). Allen was taken to the Fremont county jail at Sidney.

The search began at 4 a.m. when a man was surprised burglarizing the store. He eluded the sheriff and a deputy 4 miles north of Randolph after an auto chase of speeds up to 100 miles an hour.

The man's car went into a ditch about 300 feet from the end of a dead end road. The car flipped over on its top and one side was sheared off, officers said.

The pursuing sheriff swerved his car into a fence to avoid hitting the fugitive's auto and another car parked in the driveway at the Guy Forney farm.

Christopher and his deputy received minor injuries but continued to track the man on foot. They lost his trail in a creek flowing through a wooded area after following him 2 1/2 miles across fields.

Officers from Red Oak, Glenwood, Malvern, Tabor, Hamberg and Sidney and highway patrolmen took part in the search. An airplane also was used in an effort to spot the man.

Rosser Wins LAFB Man Of Month Honors

A2C Ronald S. Rosser of the 307th Field Maintenance Squadron at Lincoln Air Force Base has been selected 8th Air Force Maintenance Man of the month for April.

The selection was forwarded to SAC Headquarters for the command honors competition, according to a message from 8th Air Force Headquarters.

Reorganization of the Pentagon is before a committee that would like an option on sea level cubicles.

The brave lads in Old Fort Triplicate have reached the paperwork Vahalla of retirement on full pay.

The Pentagon has been drydock for the high brass voyaging on the sliding rug of Bagdad.

Music news is covered thoroughly in the "Sunday Journal and Star."

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then, read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
